IBL'S ACHIEVEMENTS 2020-2021

March 2020-March 2021

IBL IN THE PANDEMIC

- The Covid19 crisis drove IBL to a deep rethinking of its efforts and operations.
- As all public events were cancelled, we have swiftly reorganised our efforts to bring our seminars and meetings on the available online platforms.
- In the timeframe March 2020-March 2021, IBL organized 78 webinars, with a significant audience participation.
- The prevailing uncertainty about future circumstances dictates a prosecution of this approach, and the need to identify new opportunities.

LEGAL AID

PRONTO INTERVENTO FORENSE

- To deal with the many abuses and the nonsense caused by the limitations to the free movement of citizens enacted as a respoinse to COVID-19, Istituto Bruno Leoni has activated a legal aid initiative to all citizens in cases of abuse of power by the authorities.
- With the help of a number of attorneys working por bono in several areas in Italy, Istituto Bruno Leoni helps the citizens to challenge in court fines and measures that defy the principles of law and of logic.

PRESENCE ON SOCIAL MEDIA

- During this past year IBL has steadily increased and enhanced its presence on the major social networks:
  - Facebook: +20% follower base.
  - Instagram: +38% follower base.
  - Twitter: +11% follower base.
  - LinkedIn: +50% follower base and engagement rate twice as large as that of comparable profiles.
  - YouTube: +235% users and 1,3 millions impression.
  - 2,000-6,000 daily direct interactions on our profiles.
  - Some 120,000 unique users reached weekly by our content.

HIGHLIGHTS

In addition to its presence as a recognised and authoritative voice in the Italian political debate, Istituto Bruno Leoni is present in important international news and comment outlets.

AWARDS

IBL confirmed its presence in the "Global Go To Think Tank Index" Report, published each year by the Think Tanks and Civil Societies Program (TTCSP) of the Lauder Institute at the University of Pennsylvania.

The Index evaluates over 11,000 think tanks in the world (153 in Italy) and is made on the basis of the assessment and rankings offered by the international community of research organisations and relevant experts.

Istituto Bruno Leoni was ranked as the 132nd best think tank in the world overall.

Furthermore, IBL was ranked 76th best Western European think tank, and 124th among non-US think tanks.

RESEARCH

KEY RESEARCH ITEMS

- In March 2020-March 2021 IBL ha published 43 research papers.
- Research included themes of immediate relevance to the pandemic:
  - The constitutional feasibility of Italy's "emergency law".
  - The impact of the lockdowns on the civil liberties of Italian citizens.
  - The impact of the lockdown on education and the role private schools can play in favouring a fairer and more effective educational system.
- The Institute has also worked assessing the problems related with the government's management of the economic crisis and the measures attempting at fostering a recovery. In particular:
  - It researched the benefits for Italy to seek an ESM loan (vs the government's declared intention of not doing so).
  - It researched the need to liberalize the platform economy in order to strengthen delivery services, with social distancing.
  - It researched the importance of supporting private schools, in the post-pandemic school environment.

COVID-19, GOVERNMENT, AND LIBERTIES

As a response to the COVID-19 crisis, on April 26th the Italian government enacted a very strict lockdown.

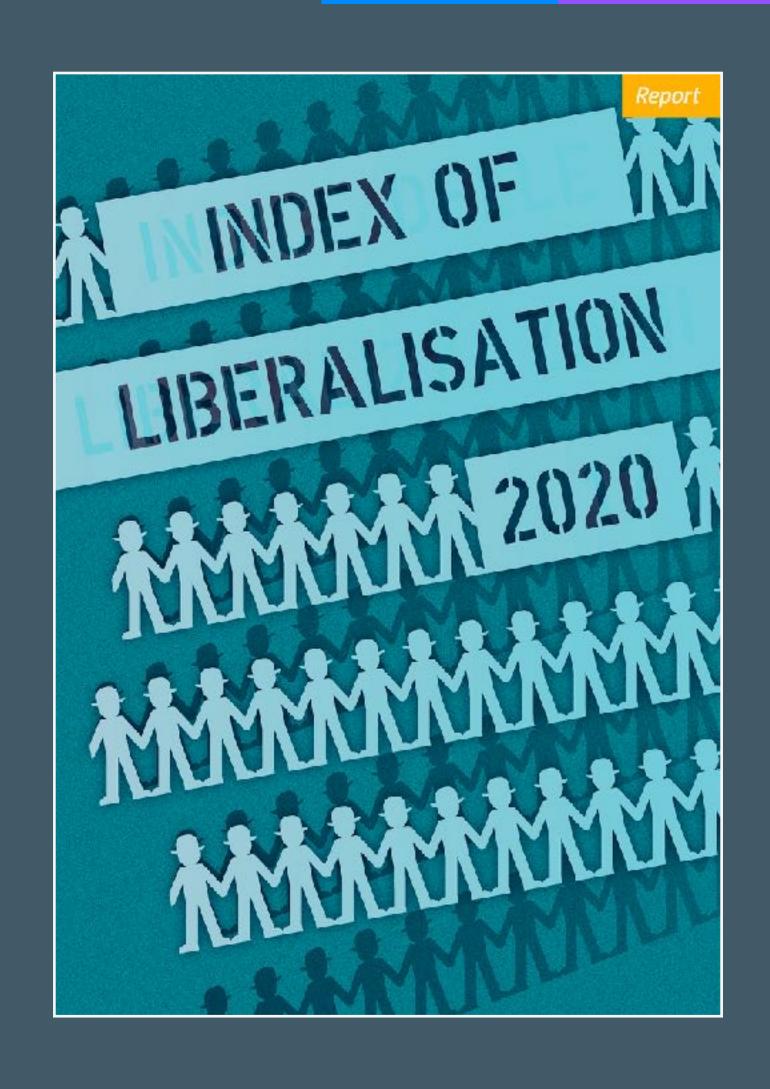

After the lockdown was relaxed in the Summer, a second wave of infections prompted the government to enact a new series of restrictive measures. Total or partial lockdowns entail severe curbs on the basic rights and freedoms of citizens.

Istituto Bruno Leoni has devised an index to gauge the severity of the loss of liberty on 8 measures along a 0-40 scale, differentiated between regions, and regularly updated in consequence of the national and regional government decrees.

INDEX OF LIBERALISATION 2020

The Index identifies both competition barriers and the best economic practices across nine sectors of the economy in the 27 member states of the European Union and the UK. The report finds that the highest scores in the Index are associated with lower entry costs, greater dynamism, and a larger plurality of operators, offers, and products. This implies that liberalisation is strongly associated with a country's economic growth and level of innovation.

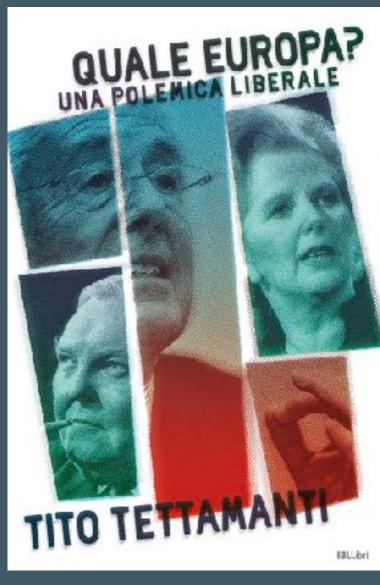

The index assesses the market opening score in nine key economic sectors (Automotive fuels, Natural gas, Labour, Electricity, Mail services, Telecommunications, Railways, and Insurance).

In 2020 the most market-friendly country in Europe was the United Kingdom, with a score of 93 out of 100, followed by Ireland (79) and Spain (78). The most closed economies are Finland's (55), Croatia's (57), and Slovakia's (57). Italy is ranked sixth, with a score of 75.

Richard Pipes, renowned historian of the Russian Revolution, shows how private ownership has served over the centuries to limit the power of the state and enable democratic institutions to evolve and thrive in the Western world.

Ayn Rand distinguished herself for her unabashed support of capitalism. In her view, capitalism was much more than an economic system, and amounted instead to a veritable philosophy and way of life.

In 2020 the most market-friendly country in Europe was the United Kingdom, with a score of 93 out of 100, followed by Ireland (79) and Spain (78). Italy is ranked sixth, with a score of 75.

STAKEHOLDER CAPITALISM

The COVID-19 crisis has favoured and enhanced the already existing trend towards a heavy-handed presence of the government in the economy, under a range of pretexts: the health crisis, the environmental crisis, and, more generally, the purported far-sightedness and integrity of government officials as compared with the short-term horizon and greed of private actors.

A number of influential economists and opinion-makers has caught the favour of several governments and is actively steering their actions in the name of well-worn shibboleths such as the "social responsibility of business" and the "entrepreneurial state." All this contributes to the emergence of the so-called "stakeholder capitalism," another name for a corporatist economy.

Istituto Bruno Leoni has long opposed this trend, and has published books and articles to make the public aware of the pitfalls and the flaws of renewed forms of industrial policy.

People in a primitive way distrust the price system, and distrust the impersonality of exchange among strangers. If you can persuade people that the market economy does not innovate—no five or thirty to one—they will be happy to renounce it, as people have frequently since socialism was first imagined.

The truth is that the enriched modern economy was not a product of State coercion. It was a product of a change in political and social rhetoric. The true question is what on balance is the best way to organize innovation—by the "wise State" or by commercially tested betterment?

The faith is that economists can rescue the sadly "unfettered" markets by applying fetters forged by brilliant blacksmiths employed by the State, such as Keynes, Samuelson, and Mariana Mazzucato...

LEONI FILES

CARLO AMENTA - SERENA SILEONI - CARLO STAGNARO

- Every week, with Carlo Amenta (University of Palermo), Serena Sileoni (IBL) and Carlo Stagnaro (IBL).
- The weekly podcast Leoni Files saw an increase of its average downloads number, which grew form some 400 to 800-1,000 per podcast (on all platforms). The show featuring US-based Italian virologist Ilaria Capua reached a record 30,000 views.
- The issues debated during the lockdown touched the developments of the epidemic and its social impacts (for instance, with Guido Silvestri, virologist, Professor and Head of Department at the Emory University), and the economic consequences, as well as the features of the response (as with Filippo Patroni Griffi, President of the Italian Council of State and Vito Tanzi, fmr. Director, Fiscal Affairs Department, IMF). Furthermore, a number of political figures were featured in our podcasts: Matteo Renzi, fmr. Prime Minister and influential political figure, and Emma Bonino, cofounder of the Italian Radical Party, fmr. Minister of Foreign Affairs and civil rights leader.

ONLINE COURSES AND SEMINARS

ON LINE SEMINARS FOR HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS

- In the school year 2013/14 we have activated our "IBL nelle scuole" program. In the school year 2019/2020, before the lockdown, IBL had held 59 lecture cycles and emphasised the new comics book series "What really happens if...?"
- Since the start of the pandemics, IBL organized 3 updating and training webinars for teachers, together with AEEE-Italia (Associazione Europea per l'Educazione Economica).
- Our "IBL nelle Scuole" program was restructured and adapted to the new circumstances and restarted with the new school year. We have programmed 96 lectures so far (21 schools in different parts of Italy) and broadened our offer to 7 teaching modules.
- We have introduced a new regular feature, "La scuola libera" (A Free School), by Sister Anna Monia Alfieri, that focuses on the challenges posed by the COVID pandemic to Italian schools, with the participation of academic and scholars, as well as teachers and school administrators.

ONLINE COURSES

- Building on the positive experience of our web-based seminars and events, IBL decided to launch a series of online courses, to offer an in-depth educational opportunity to the general public.
- The courses are articulated into 7-12 online lectures each, held by academics, professionals and IBL fellows. Each lecture includes teaching materials (slides and a reading list), and is followed by a Q&A session.
- The participation to the online courses requires the payment of a fee. This serves both to support our efforts and to gauge the appreciation and dedication fo our followers.
- In this endeavour we have had the valuable support of Zampa Foundation (Liberty and Ger Enemies) and started a partnership with Università Suor Orsola Benincasa di Napoli (Le origini del modello statale italiano).
- A brief outline of the three course held in 2020 and early 2021 follows.

SERIES OF ONLINE SEMINARS

- The encouraging response to the transition of our seminars on online platforms led us to broaden our offer with the organization of cycles of online seminar. This allows a more detailed investigation of specific issues and seems to be more suitable to the needs of particular audiences.
- An increasingly significant stress was placed on content aimed to a younger audience, which is becoming the main focus of IBL's efforts: the widespread use of social network channels by the younger generations is a useful tool to gauge the satisfacion and the interests of our virtual public.

AGAINST THE ABUSE OF REASON: THE POLITICAL THOUGHT OF MICHAEL OAKESHOTT CONTRO L'ABUSO DELLA RAGIONE: IL PENSIERO POLITICO DI MICHAEL OAKESHOTT

In December 2020 IBL Libri published the Italian translation of Michael Oakeshott's Rationalism in Politics and Other Essays.

We accompanied the book with a series of online seminars reserved for the members of our Book Club, held between January 18th and February 22nd.

Each webinar saw a lecture offered by an academic presenter, followed by a Q&A session with the participants. The lecturers: Sergio Belardinelli, Agostino Carrino, Raimondo Cubeddu, Giovanni Giorgini, Alberto Mingardi e Giovanni Orsina.

WHAT RECOVERY LEST WE FOUNDER? 6 MEETINGS FOR AN UNDER-30 AUDIENCE QUALE RECOVERY PER NON ANDARE A FONDO?: 6 DIBATTITI DEDICATI AGLI UNDER 30

An open discussion for each policy macro-area covered by the NextGeneration EU program, with an introduction by an IBL fellow. The series was reserved to participants under-30. This series saw the participation of more than 250 young men and women.

The discussions focused on the real challenge facing Italy in the management of the European funds it is poised to receive: how to make the youger generation the real driver of the recovery, starting with the sorely needed reforms that should have been enacted well before the NextGeneration EU scheme.

We have dealt with taxes, impact and assessment of public spending, justice and rule of law, privatizations, energy and the challenge of nurturing an informed public willing to support the reforms we need.

The meetings saw the participation of Carlo Amenta, Oscar Giannino, Andrea Giuricin, Nicola Rossi, Serena Sileoni, and Carlo Stagnaro.

GEORGE ORWELL 70 YEARS AFTER HIS DEATH GEORGE ORWELL A 70 ANNI DALLA SCOMPARSA

In the occasion of the 70th anniversary of George Orwell's death, IBL is organising a series of online webinars to investigate several facets of his thought and how Orwell can be relevant to our times.

Orwell's works offer a window on the several facets of his thought: his anti-Communism, the importance of political language, the experience of the Spanish Civil War, dystopian literature, and the shadow cast by totalitarianism on the 20th century (and on ours?).
